

MICHELE CHAMBERLIN | Special to the Times

ONE SINGULAR SENSATION: The students of Sell's Broadway Dance Company, New Port Richey, competed in February at the Regional On Stage New York competition in Orlando. The dancers received the Platinum Award for the overall high score among 60 entries in the Mini Division. They also received the judges' Entertainment Award for their routine, "I Wanna Be a Rockette." The dance team will next compete in July at the On Stage New York National Grand Finale competition in New York City in July. Pictured in the front row from the left: Shaelynn Hammel, Haylee Wyman, Elizabeth Mott, Megan Sell, Alyssa Elrod, Ally Chamberlin and Molly Boland; in the second row: Lydia King, Taylor Akers, Miranda Lough, Daria Frey, Mackenzie Sheu, Lauryn Smith; in back row: teacher and owner Shanna Sell; Onstage New York emcee and host Michael Demby-Cain; and teacher and owner Chris Sell. The dance team has been booked for several local performances in the coming months. Call Sell's Broadway Dance Company at (727) 376-2600.
